Ninwe Younan is an Associate Director whose experience focuses on a range of dispute resolution matters across various state and federal courts and tribunals. Ninwe also provides legal advice to clients in a range of commercial matters.

In particular, Ninwe's experience and expertise include:

- a detailed understanding of how indemnity works under Directors and Officers liability insurance;
- a detailed knowledge of the practices and procedures of courts and tribunals that hear commercial disputes;
- familiarity with corporate law as it applies to insolvent trading;
- the opportunities and responsibilities of Directors and Officers of insolvent incorporations;
- experience in providing advisory and dispute resolution services in relation to parties who have sustained losses in managed investment schemes;
- experience and familiarity with the anti-competitive, consumer protection and manufacturer liability provisions of the Trade Practices Act 1974 (Cth);
- experience in representing directors in public examinations;
- providing business advisory services relating to commercial leasing and the sale and purchase of shares, assets and businesses; and
- experience in dispute resolution for commercial building disputes.

In her role as Associate Director, Ninwe plays an important mentoring role to graduates and junior solicitors within the firm and works closely with Sue Phillips to provide practical and commercial advice to clients across a range of industries.
